July 2022

Something a little different: just be.

Sometimes we all need something a little different. Sometimes we need to take a step back (or take a seat) and just be: just be present with ourselves, just be present with our God; just be present with the joy of creation; just be present.

This month, I invite you to find ways to just be. Here are two poems to help set the stage.

“This Breathless Earth” – by Malcom Guite

We bolted every door but even so
We couldn't catch our breath for very fear:
Fear of their knocking at the gate below,
Fear that they'd find and kill us even here.
Though Mary's tale had quickened all our hearts
Each fleeting hope just deepens your despair:
The panic grips again, the gasping starts,
The drowning, and the coming up for air.
Then suddenly, a different atmosphere,
A clarity of light, a strange release,
And, all unlooked for, Christ himself was there

Love in his eyes and on his lips, our peace.
So now we breathe again, sent forth, forgiven,
To bring this breathless earth a breath of heaven.

“Blessing in the Chaos” ~ by Jan Richardson

To all that is chaotic
in you,
let there come silence.

Let there be a calming
of the clamoring,
a stilling
of the voices that have laid their claim
on you,
that have made their home in you,

that go with you even to the holy places
but will not let you rest,
will not let you
hear your life
with wholeness
or feel the grace
that fashioned you.

Let what distracts you
cease.

Let what divides you
cease.
Let there come an end
to what diminishes
and demeans,
and let depart
all that keeps you in its cage.

Let there be an opening
into the quiet
that lies beneath
the chaos,
where you find the peace
you did not think possible
and see what shimmers within the storm.

“A Dream of Trees” – by Mary Oliver
There is a thing in me that dreamed of trees,
A quiet house, some green and modest acres
A little way from every troubling town,
A little way from factories, schools, laments.
I would have time, I thought, and time to spare,
With only streams and birds for company,
To build out of my life a few wild stanzas.
And then it came to me, that so was death,
A little way away from everywhere.
There is a thing in me still dreams of trees.
But let it go. Homesick for moderation,
Half the world's artists shrink or fall away.
If any find solution, let him tell it.
Meanwhile I bend my heart toward lamentation
There, as the times implore our true involvement,
The blades of every crisis point the way.
I would it were not so, but so it is.
Who ever made music of a mild day?

Come unto me, all ye that travail and are heavy laden, and I will refresh you. Matthew 11:28

Fellowship

St. Andrew's Book Club is on summer break but still reading, always reading!

Who we are and what we do matters. Do you want to live life as a "good" person and always do the "right" thing? If you care about whether what you do is good or bad, read "How to be Perfect: The Correct Answer to Every Moral Question" by Michael Schur.

The author, comedy writer and creator of "The Good Place" tv show, explores centuries of moral philosophy and ethics by Aristotle, Kant, Mill, Sartre, etc. but don't let that scare you off! This book is readable, humorous and I am probably going to give copies to everyone in my family as Christmas gifts. Plus, do you know the Monty Python "Philosopher's Song"? It has been running through my head non-stop.

Anyone of any age who reads the book is welcome at our one-hour discussion on Sunday, September 18 at 6:30 p.m.

Just throwing out suggestions for classic books, if you have never read these:

- The Killer Angels by Michael Shaara (Pulitzer)
- The Caine Mutiny by Herman Wouk (Pulitzer)
- The Red Tent by Anita Diamant
- A Town Like Alice by Nevil Shute

Please share your list of most unforgettable, life changing books.

“50 Shades” All women are invited to the patio at Moondancer Winery on Friday, July 1st from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. Bring snacks to share. Wood-fired pizza, beer, wine and cider is available for purchase. Live music after 7 p.m.

This purely social group always meets the first of each month. The activity for August 1st will be decided by those who attend.

Isn't this the time when you want to connect with other women and share fellowship?
